Whale Runs Aground

A playful whale, which ventured too close to shore and was stranded on the ebb tide in the harbor at Huntington, N. Y., is viewed by residents of the section. Coast Guard and conservation authorities are planning to try to get the whale back into deep water at next high tide.

Engineers, Owners Sign Agreement To Settle Walkout

Strike of Deck Officers, Licensed Personnel Still Continues, Is Report

New York, Oct. 22 (AP)—C.I.O. Marine Engineers and East and West Coast Ship Operators today signed a contract to settle their 22-day old maritime walkout but the strike of deck officers and licensed ship personnel continued to affect virtually all American shipping.

Signing of the contract between the ship operators and the Marine Engineers Beneficial Association was announced by U. S. Conciliator Frederick Livingston after 13 and one-half hours of negotiations.

But before the shipping tieup on the east and gulf coasts comes to an end the pact must be ratified by both the union membership and the 44 shipping companies and representatives of agents and operators.

Also the ship operators and the other union involved in the strike, A.F.L. Masters, mates and Pilots—also must come to terms. The master's week a 30 per cent increase and closed shop.

This would leave the west coast still strikebound. The unions are to negotiate with west coast shipping interests after concluding talks with the east and gulf coast operators.

E. P. Trainer, chairman of the Marine Engineers Negotiation Committee, who signed the contract for the union, said he would recommend to the general membership that they ratify the agreement.

He said he did not know when the ratification meetings would be held, but that locals would be notified as soon as possible and an effort would be made to hold meetings simultaneously in all affected ports.

Terms of the contract were outlined by Trainer and Frank J. Taylor, president of the American Maritime Union.

No Bilboism Here Goldstein Says With Dewey Will Be Safe

New York, Oct. 22 (AP)—Attorney General Nathaniel L. Goldstein tonight said that so long as the administration of Governor Dewey remained in power, there would never be any state for the sheet-riders of Bilboism. He also told the 51st Annual Baptist Convention that the duty of every citizen was to guard the fair name of the state against such bigoted agencies.

Hearing Notices Have Been Sent

Rondout Harbor Project Session to Be Held November 7

The Corps of Engineers, War Department, New York District, have sent notices of the public hearing on the "Rondout Harbor, New York" project to all interested parties with instructions that all details pertaining to the project be prepared for the meeting scheduled at the county court house at 1:30 p. m. on Thursday, November 7.

Purpose of the meeting is to establish public desire for improvements on the Rondout waterfront.

The notice was signed by Col. W. F. Heavey, district engineer of the New York District.

All interested parties are invited to be present at the meeting, including representatives of federal, state, county and municipal agencies, and those of commercial, industrial, civic, highway, railroad, waterway transportation interests and property owners concerned.

Col. Heavey said in his notice that all parties concerned will be afforded full opportunity to express their views concerning the character and extent of the improvement desired and the need and advisability of its execution.

Sponsors of the improvement have been instructed to present pertinent factual material bearing upon the general plan of improvement desired and the economic justification of the undertaking. Opposing interests, if any, are also urged to state the reasons for their position.

Increased Effort For Resort Trade Stressed at Parley

Postwar Conditions Find Ulster-Greene Region Getting Less Than During War

An opinion which was voiced a year ago at a meeting of newspapermen and traveling tour operators and hoteliers, that owners from the Ulster-Greene County vacationland area came true during the past year and for the first time since the co-operative movement to publicize the area was begun in earnest, there have been fewer inquiries for accommodations received by the Ulster-Greene Counties Vacationland committee. Direct mail and also telephone inquiries fell off slightly during 1946, but there were more inquiries through the New York State Publicity Bureau.

Inquiries through the State Bureau doubled.

With the close of the war this condition had been expected and last year when the newspaper men of the area met with H. E. Dexter, vice-president of Commercial Relations for the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation, as guests of the company, it was stated that when travel restrictions were once again raised there would be a tendency to travel to greater distances and the Catskill area could be expected to lose some of its metropolitan business unless far greater efforts were made to publicize the area and set forth its advantages.

Huben Gives Summary

A summary of the advertising campaign for 1946 was given by Ed Huben. The same appropriations were made this year by both the Ulster and Greene county boards of supervisors as in 1945. Ulster county appropriated $2,500 and Greene county $1,400. Newspaper advertising was done in the same number of newspapers of the New York area and the same number of county folders were printed, namely 35,000 for Ulster county and 25,000 for Greene.

Two more townships printed community folders in Ulster county and one more in Greene county, increasing the total number in the area from 17 last year to 20 this year but the circulation decreased from 128,000 in 1945 to 121,000 the past season by reason of fewer circulars being printed in some communities.

Distribution of folders was made through 94 travel agencies this year, while in 1945 there were only 52 distributing points. The past year the area covered was increased and folders were distributed in nine states, the District of Columbia and in Canada.

As a result of the publicity campaign there were a total of 6,718 direct mail inquiries in the two counties, a drop of about 600 from the peak year of 1945. Telephone inquiries also dropped from 141 in 1945 to 86 in 1946. The New York State Bureau of Publicity however had double the 1945 inquiries.

This decline following the ending of the war and the removal of gasoline restrictions had been anticipated and last year a similar meeting it was predicted that unless increased efforts were put forth to keep metropolitan area vacationists in this area they might be expected to go greater distances in search of their entertainment and amusement.

Dexter Presides

Mr. Dexter, who presided at the meeting, said that the purpose of the meeting was to establish public desire for improvements on the Rondout waterfront.

The notice was signed by Col. W. F. Heavey, district engineer of the New York District.

Resistance By Buyers Is Growing

Check of 48 Cities Discloses Supplies of Meat Improve in 39 Places

Other Items Scarce

Sugar, Soaps, Tissue Among Items Hard to Get

(By The Associated Press)

The growth of definite buyer resistance to meat prices that have spurred to an extreme of $1.50 a pound was shown today in a heavy majority of the key cities covered in a nation-blanking survey.

At the end of the first full week of uncontrolled meat prices, a spot check of 48 cities by The Associated Press produced a score-board that read like this:

Red meat has come back in sharply improved to ample quantities on the counters of 39 communities; in nine others—six of them in the east—meat is still scarce to non-existent.

Prices have risen everywhere, in a few cases by as little or even less than the federal subsidy that vanished with O.P.A. control, but in one-third of the 48 cities prices of $1 a pound or more have been chalked up for choice cuts.

Resistance to these prices has appeared in degrees ranging from active organized picketing in 34 of the survey cities; in others the complaint has risen that citizens had nothing to resist.

In at least 10 cities this resistance has either been effective in chopping down the topmost prices, or has given promise of doing so within a few days.

Other Scarcities Remain

While meat has come out of hiding, several other key living scarcities have remained as hard to find for the most part as they have been for many weeks. In 25 of the reporting communities sugar was listed as scarce to entirely unobtainable—with Philadelphia high among them despite 70,000,000 pounds aboard ships held off their wharves by the maritime strike.

In 43 of the 48 cities both soap and shortening were markedly scarce and in 39 of them toilet tissue was anything but readily obtainable.

There were plenty of unusual twists in an odd picture presented today to American housewives.

Markets Are Picketed

In Omaha, Neb., a number of meat markets have been picketed by members of the League of Women Shoppers bearing signs urging prospective buyers not to pay "outrageous" prices. Spokesman said the picketing was directed ultimately at packers, to get them to reduce prices to retailers. Prices already have come down.

New York city and St. Louis provided two other instances where prices have dropped under sharp refusal by housewives to buy. Good porterhouse steak dropped from $1.25 a pound to 95 cents in New York, and in St. Louis it went down from $1.19 to 98 cents and failed to sell at that price.

As a sidelight, butter prices have been driven down in three cities by the same tactics. In Charlotte, N. C., butter dropped from 45 cents to 35 cents.

Mead May Be Target For Dewey in Syracuse

Mead Gets Slim Reception in City

Goes on Air When Crowd Fails to Gather for Public Speech

There were no frills attached to the presence of Senator James M. Mead in Kingston yesterday, except for a delegation, headed by Attorney Joseph H. Forman meeting him at the Rondout creek bridge.

A political rally, which usually goes with a reception for gubernatorial candidates was not accorded the Buffalo Democratic nominee.

In the party with Attorney Forman were Mayor William F. Edelmuth, Special City Judge Francis Martocci and a motorcade made up of Democratic affiliates. Accompanying Senator Mead, who passed through Kingston en route to Troy for a rally, and speech was Anthony Di Giovanni, Democratic candidate for attorney general.

Prior to leaving Kingston, Senator Mead spoke on WKNY, devoting his remarks to veterans' housing and the Kingston-Rhinecliff bridge. He did not, however, furnish copies of his talk to the press.

No Audience at Hall

The radio speech followed a visit to the city hall, where the senator was to have delivered an address on the front steps, but skipped this part of his itinerary for lack of an audience.

Mead charged Governor Dewey with confusion on housing, despite the state's action on a local project now in progress at Loughran Park.

His remarks about the bridge across the Hudson river were centered about a remark made by the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, who said on a visit to Kingston prior to his death, "the only thing for you to do is build a bridge."

In contrast to the local reception for Senator Mead, the Democratic candidate was accorded a torchlight parade in Troy and addressed a large rally at its conclusion.

Smuts Leaves for U.S.

London, Oct. 22 (AP)—South African Prime Minister Jan Christiaan Smuts left by plane today for the United Nations Assembly meeting. Asked how long he expected to remain in New York, Smuts suggested "Ask Mr. Molotov."

Rosenberg Is Chosen Head Of Four Ulster Draft Boards

Dr. Joseph H. Rosenberg, chairman of the Kingston draft board, was elected group chairman of the four Ulster county boards at a meeting of the chairmen of the boards held yesterday. Dr. Rosenberg was elected group chairman to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Henry C. Connelly.

Earlier in the year all of the four draft boards of Ulster county were housed in the Central Post Office building in the Kingston draft board office.

Under this setup all four boards retain their own identity, but all of the records are now kept under one roof.

The chairmen of the four boards in naming Dr. Rosenberg as group chairman, also named Prof. Edgar V. Beebe of New Paltz to serve as acting group chairman whenever Dr. Rosenberg was unable to attend a group meeting.

Prior to the new setup the New Paltz board met in New Paltz, the Kingston board in Kingston, the Saugerties board in Saugerties.

Aide Says Governor Will Set Democrats Straight; Veterans Back Dewey

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 22 (AP)—Governor Dewey will rip into his Democratic-A.L.P.-Liberal Party foes tonight in a major campaign speech at Syracuse, an aide indicated today.

"The governor will set the opposition straight on a few points on which they seem to be confused," James C. Hagerty, Dewey's executive assistant, said.

He did not elaborate, but it was understood U. S. Senator James M. Mead, the governor's Democratic-A.L.P.-Liberal Party opponent in the November 5 election, would be the chief target.

Dewey made a double-barreled attack on the Democratic national and state administrations in a statewide radio broadcast last night.

"Incredible incompetence" on the part of President Truman's administration, he said, was responsible for the housing shortage. Within the state, he added, the opposition was trying to make the veterans' program a "political football."

Shortly before going on the air, Dewey released copies of telegrams from the state commander of the American Legion, the past commander of the Jewish War Veterans and the head of the Communist Party in New York, giving their views on the week-end seizure of the State Senate chamber by 75 New York city veterans of World War 2.

Hitchcock Deplores 'Sitdown'

Earl C. Hitchcock of Glens Falls, state Legion commander, said the action of the "sitdown" veterans in trying to enforce their demands for an $800,000,000 housing program "is to be deplored and is directly contrary to the stand which has always been taken by the American Legion."

"The experience of the Legion," Hitchcock wired Dewey, "has been that when laws or other action are needed in behalf of veterans, leaders of the executive and legislative branches have always been available for conference and sympathetic handling of the problems."

"The constructive program which this state has adopted for its veterans has been the result of this orderly procedure, which will be continued by the American Legion."

He said the Legion national convention, "recognizing that housing for veterans is a national problem," had established a committee to present a plan for national action.

Ginsberg Assails Action

Isidore Ginsberg of Jackson Heights, past commander of the Jewish War Veterans, telegraphed Dewey that "the action of the few misguided war veterans... is to be deplored."

Robert Thompson, state chairman of the Communist Party and its candidate for comptroller, expressed "whole-hearted agreement" with the demands of the "sitdown" veterans and said failure of the state administration to "act quickly" would create a demand for a squatters' movement. He said veterans were "in no mood to pass the buck to Washington."

Levi R. Chase, Jr., of Cortland, one of the first American aces in the African-European theatre, wired:

"It is with utter disgust that the great majority of veterans of New York state, who are first of all good American citizens, view the action taken by a small body of ill advised veterans from New York city. ... I for one will do everything in my power to help the state."

Foreign Secretary Says Failure Will Not Be Fault Of Britain; to Quit Indies

Mother Has Had No Word From U.S. Sources on Death

Private Earl F. Gossoo Was Killed in Jeep Crash on Road Near Berlin

EARL F. GOSSOO

While the local chapter of the American Red Cross pressed the War Department for additional information, Mrs. Anna Gossoo, of 177 Wall street, told The Freeman this morning that she has not received official confirmation of the death of her son, Pvt. Earl F. Gossoo, who was reported killed in an automobile accident in the American zone of Berlin, Germany, last Friday.

According to an Associated Press dispatch carried yesterday, Pvt. Gossoo was reported to have met his death on a highway west of Berlin in a two jeep collision.

Private Gossoo, according to army authorities, was riding with T/5 Harold Spurgin, of Route 2, Connorsville, Indiana, when their jeep crashed head-on into another jeep. The driver of the second jeep was not identified.

Mrs. Gossoo said that her son was 19 years old and had attended Kingston High School for two years. He was drafted on July 2, 1945 and took infantry basic training at Camp Wheeler, Georgia. Young Gossoo went overseas on December 1, 1945, and was assigned to the American occupation zone in Berlin.

Private Gossoo was a member of the Pine Hill Presbyterian Church.

Surviving Private Gossoo in addition to his mother are two sisters, Mrs. Martha Rockwell and Mrs. Elizabeth Ruger, both of Kingston.

The War Department's version of the accident said that one of the vehicles had stopped suddenly to avoid running over a Russian soldier crossing the highway when the crash occurred. It did not state whether Gossoo was in the car that had halted or the one that came along and crashed into it.

T/5 Spurgin, who was riding with Gossoo, suffered head lacerations. He and young Gossoo were members of Troop D of the 15th Constabulary Squadron in Berlin.

Mrs. Walter Hubbard, director of the Ulster County Chapter of the American Red Cross, said that the local office is working on the case and expects to have information within the next day or so.

W. J. Gossoo's Funeral

William J. Gossoo, 31, of Poughkeepsie, a cousin of the soldier, died Saturday in Vassar Hospital from injuries which the police claim were inflicted by a bullet fired from a machine gun. He was held for a grand jury action on a charge of second degree assault. Gossoo was employed as a driver for the Poughkeepsie and Wappingers Falls Railway Co. He is a native of Shandaken, and is survived by his wife, Mrs. Virginia Gossoo, and a daughter, Roberta, aged eight years. Funeral services were privately held this afternoon with burial in Allamuchy.

Commons Is Told Anglo Policy in Egypt Is Impeded by Internal Troubles

Asks End of Nerves

Better Feeling Would Result, He Says, if Dissension Stopped

London, Oct. 22 (AP)—Foreign Secretary Bevin told the House of Commons today he was "not unhopeful" that the major powers would achieve lasting amity.

He reaffirmed his determination to achieve understanding among the great powers—Great Britain, the United States, Russia, France, and China.

"It will not be the fault of His Majesty's government if it does not come," he declared, opening a two-day debate on basic British foreign policy.

Bevin told the House of Commons that Britain was anxious to conclude an enduring peace with Japan and ensure against future Japanese aggression.

He spoke of "encouraging signs" in Indonesia (the rich Netherlands East Indies), said British troops would leave the islands by November 30 and commented:

"I have every hope that, by that date, a settlement will have been reached."

About Egypt, the foreign secretary said:

"We are handicapped in bringing our negotiations with Egypt to a conclusion by internal political difficulties in Egypt itself."

A dozen foreign ambassadors and ministers sat in the gallery of the packed house listening to his address, which had been spoken of in the British press as "the most important speech of his career."

He declared that any suggestion that great Britain wanted to exploit and suppress peoples of the eastern Mediterranean was "sheer nonsense."

Speaks of Iran

Speaking of Iran, where Russian and British interests border, he said:

"I am very anxious that the small governments should never fall a victim of any difference of opinion by the three larger ones."

"We wish to see Persia (Iran) free from foreign interference."

"If this is observed by all countries this area will be kept clear of any possible conflict."

Bevin said Britain had made it clear that if Russian demands for bases in the Dardanelles were granted, it would involve an "unwarranted interference with the sovereignty of Turkey."

Observing that he agreed the Montreux convention granting Turkey control of the strategic Black Sea straits required modification, he added:

"The British government was anxious to keep the international aspect of this waterway always in view."

"Our view," he added, "is that direct exchanges of view provided by the Potsdam agreement have come to an end that any further discussions should, therefore, take place."

Painting Is Lost

'Washington' Item Burned in Bremen Bombing Raid in 1942

Bremen, Oct. 22 (AP)—The original of the famous painting, "Washington Crossing the Delaware" by the German artist Leutze, was destroyed in a British bombing raid on Bremen September 15, 1942, on Bremen September 15, 1942, the newspaper of the American Port Command at Bremen said today.

The painting, familiar to every American schoolboy, was originally to be hung in the Capitol at Washington, but when it was slightly damaged by fire the artist retouched it and sold it to the German government in 1860. Later it was hung in the Bremen Kunsthalle (art gallery).

German art directors at Bremen said they valued the painting at 60,000 marks ($24,000 at pre-war rates).

Last-Minute Conferences Are Held in New York on Eve Of Nations' General Assembly

New York, Oct. 22 (AP)—Diplomats from over the world called their staffs and advisers into last-minute conferences today to shape the policies they will present at the meetings of the General Assembly of the United Nations which open tomorrow in Flushing Meadows Park with President Truman as the welcoming speaker.

Most delegations already were settled in overcrowded New York hotels, but late-comers still were arriving by air from far parts of the globe. Among those due to arrive today were the principal antagonists: Field Marshal Jan Christian Smuts, prime minister of South Africa, and the foreign minister of the Union of South Africa, and Mrs. Vijaya Lakshmi Pandit of India. Her plane trip was delayed by engine trouble at Algiers and then by the T.W.A. pilots' strike in Shannon, Eire, where she changed planes.

Although some negotiations were reported in the wrangles between India and South Africa, Mrs. Pandit—only woman delegation chief—was prepared to carry on a fight in the assembly against "Jim Crow" conditions allegedly imposed upon Indians in South Africa. She is the sister of Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, chief minister in India's new interim government.

The Indian delegation also has organized a campaign which may be sprung to oppose South Africa's motions of annexing southwest Africa, the old German colony which the union administers under a League of Nations mandate. The annexation proposal has been placed before the General Assembly for consideration.

Story Is Mead Thinks Kingston Has Bridge

"What about the new bridge?" asked one Democrat in the motorcade that met Senator Mead Monday afternoon when he visited Kingston. The eager member of Mead's party referred to the Kingston Rhinecliff span in his query.

Riding over the Rhinecliff bridge, the Democratic nominee for Governor Dewey's job, is reported to have remarked to the young war veteran, "What's the matter with this one, isn't it wide enough?"

League mandates under a trusteeship seemed assured with the announcement last night that the United Kingdom had submitted terms under which it would agree to trusteeships for Tanganyika, Togoland and Cameroon, all in Africa.

If the British proposals and those of Australia and France for trusteeships over their mandates are accepted by the assembly, the trusteeship council would be set up as the last major organ of the U.N. to be established. The mandate holders would serve as administering states, with the United States, Russia and China as the non-administering members of the council.

France has offered French Togoland and Cameroon and the Australians have offered their portion of New Guinea.

Sessions Continue

The American delegation headed by former Senator Warren Austin of Vermont continued its day-long sessions of combing through the list of problems on the assembly agenda. It met in almost continuous session yesterday and last night to determine a policy on future needs of the refugee-care agencies after the ending of U.N.R.R.A. next year and also completed its committee assignments.

Austin himself will serve on the assembly's general (steering) committee and the headquarters committee, which will point the way for establishment of the world peace capital in nearby Westchester county or may accept one of the rival proposals offered by New York city and the San Francisco area.

The report on five proposed sites surveyed in Westchester county will be made public tonight. As a counter to New York's offer of 350 acres in the 1939-40 World's Fair grounds in Flushing, where the assembly will meet in the old New York City Building, San Francisco is carrying on its campaign to convince the U.N. fathers that it has more spacious lands to offer with reasonable costs of building construction.

A spirit of optimism and pledge of Soviet cooperation in the assembly expressed by Russian Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov on his arrival in New York was answered last night in a statement by Austin, who said:

"I have always believed that this is the sincere attitude of the Russians and expression of it by Mr. Molotov is, of course, very pleasing to all of our people."

Prices Will Advance

Washington, Oct. 22 (AP)—Grocery prices for canned pork and beans and baked beans will go up two to three cents a can, O.P.A. announced today. The agency allowed an immediate increase in ceilings for processed beans because of higher labor and other costs. The increases will reach consumers, O.P.A. added, when the first cans of the higher priced food reach retail stores. Dry edible beans, sometimes called navy beans, are used in preparing the canned products. They are reported to be scarce and for that reason have been kept under price ceilings.

Lewis Threatens New Coal Strike In Accusing U. S.

Union Boss Sends Letter to Secretary Krug; Demands Parley Open Nov. 1

Washington, Oct. 22 (AP)—John L. Lewis tossed the threat of a new soft coal strike at the Truman administration today, hinting broadly at new wage demands and charging the government with breach of contract.

Lewis' new challenge, ending nearly six months of comparative silence, could mean a walkout of the nation's 400,000-soft coal miners by November 20—on the icy edge of winter.

Unleashing his attack with sudden fury, United Mine Workers' Union boss accused the government of contract breaches resulting in "the loss of millions of dollars due to the mine workers."

In a letter to Secretary of Interior J. A. Krug yesterday, Lewis demanded that negotiations for a completely new contract begin by November 1, and coupled with it a threat to tear up the existing contract in 30 days.

Krug, reached at Amarillo, Tex., during an inspection trip, expressed shock at Lewis' assertions. "The government has not breached its contract with the United Mine Workers," he declared.

"I have already suggested to Mr. Lewis arbitration on these (disputed) points."

"The government's contract with the United Mine Workers covers wages, hours and working conditions during the period of government operation. It does not provide for reopening the contract to revise wages or hours."

Tells of Argument

Krug disclosed that he and Lewis had a heated discussion in his office last Saturday morning. He also asserted that in his opinion some of the wildcat coal strikes constituted a breach of contract on the part of the miners.

"The government of the United States lives up to its contracts," he said.

Krug voiced confidence that the pact "will stand for the period of government operation" of the soft coal mines. He was not certain whether he would return to Washington by November 1, as requested by Lewis. His trip is scheduled to continue through November 4.

Coincidentally with Lewis' blast, Navy Capt. Norman H. Collinson, federal coal mines administrator, disclosed that he already had written a letter to Lewis accepting the decision of an Illinois arbitrator—a decision favorable to the union—on the issue of vacations, one of the points raised by Lewis in his charge of contract violations.

Collinson's letter further suggested that the government will agree to decide the second specific point: whether coal be weighed at the "tippie," as it comes out of the mines in tiny cars, or after it has been washed and impurities removed and the clean marketable coal loaded on railroad freight cars.

It was on this score that Lewis contended the miners had lost "millions of dollars which otherwise would have gone to their health and welfare fund. The fund receives royalty of five cents a ton. Lewis insisted on tippie weighing."

Lewis Avoids Mention

In turning against Krug, who gave the U.M.W. a precedent-smashing contract to end the 59-day bituminous strike last spring, Lewis warily avoided any direct mention of a strike call should the government refuse to negotiate a new contract. The Smith-Connally Act provides a stiff fine and jail term for incitement to strike against the government. However, the miners traditionally refuse to work without a contract.

But the U.M.W. chief little doubt that he will press new wage demands to supplement the 181-cent hourly boost granted by Krug last May. But Lewis to Krug said the requested negotiating arrangements affecting wages, hours, rules, practices, differentials, inequalities and all other pertinent matters.

The bituminous coal operators, meantime, were on the sidelines. They have been serving as mine managers for government operation. Some were willing to accept terms of the Krug-Lewis contract at the last joint negotiations September 11. But the important southern Coal Producers Association would not agree.

Lewis said he would have to ask the U.M.W. convention whether to make a contract with part of the industry, thus returning the mines to private ownership everywhere but in the south. The convention voted down this proposal and backed the policy of adhering to a national agreement.

That left Lewis with only the government to bargain with on a national basis.

In his letter to Krug the U.M.W. chief contended the contract provides that either party may reopen it by giving 10 days' notice of a new negotiating conference. Fifteen days after that, Lewis added, either party can end the pact after five additional days. That timetable could bring an end to the present working agreement on November 20.

No Sign in T.W.A. Deadlock Occurs; Plane Flies Delegates

By JAMES J. STREIBIG

Washington, Oct. 22 (AP)—The White House said today the National Mediation Board is considering possible intervention in the two-day-old strike of pilots which has halted trans world airline flights at home and abroad.

Presidential Press Secretary Charles G. Ross emphasized at a news conference that the White House itself has not entered into the wage dispute, but simply has been advised that the board is studying the case. He added that he did not know what that agency might do.

At the same time, he said government seizure of the world-wide T.W.A. system has not been discussed.

Otherwise, there was no sign of a break in the deadlock over the pay increase demands of the A.F.L. pilots who now earn about $1,000 monthly.

T.W.A. officials took over the controls of a special plane to fly United Nations delegates and officials from Paris to New York for the U. S. Assembly tomorrow. But aside from that, all the T.W.A. Skymasters and Constellations were parked at airports.

16 Passengers Aboard

Sixteen passengers were aboard the special plane flown by Larry Trimble, T.W.A. assistant superintendent of flying in Europe, and Stanley Stanton, assistant technical manager. Approximately 100 other New York-bound passengers were stranded at Paris, Rome and Shannon after pilots left planes there.

Neither side showed any inclination to budge from its stand and there were indications that the government might have to step into the controversy.

Differing versions of the A.F.L. union's pay demands range from a top union estimate of $1,887 a month, plus an undisclosed bonus for each flying to a company claim of $1,250 a month, or $15,000 a year.

Pilots of the giant four engine Constellations have been earning up to $918 a month.

Neither Jack Frye, T.W.A. president, nor David L. Behncke, head of the A.F.L. Air Line Pilots Association, showed any inclination to budge from the adamant stand each took shortly before the line's 1,400 fliers began their walkout early yesterday.

The strike tied up 115 airplanes along more than 28,000 miles of routes from California to Arabia. What, if anything, the government might do remained uncertain.

Local Death Record

George M. Lewis, 85, died at his home in Poughkeepsie Saturday night. He had been in failing health for some time. Mr. Lewis was born in Marlborough, son of the late David and Katherine DeBois Lewis, but had resided in Poughkeepsie the greater part of his life. He is survived by two daughters, the Misses Marion C. Clayton Lewis, of Poughkeepsie; a sister, Mrs. Henry Bowman of Philadelphia, and a brother, Christopher Lewis of Poughkeepsie.

Mrs. Sarah W. Heilbroner, widow of Isaac Heilbroner, died in her home at Brookline, Mass., last Friday. Funeral services were held Monday with burial in the Wakefield cemetery in Boston. Mrs. Heilbroner was a daughter of the late Max and Helene Werhahn of this city, and is survived by two sons, Lester and Sumner Heilbroner, both of Boston, and three grandchildren. Two sisters, Mrs. Benjamin D. Wolf and Miss Augusta Wetterhahn, both of this city, survive, as well as a brother, Samuel Wetterhahn of Boston.

Thomas A. Nolan, a lifelong resident of this city, died yesterday afternoon following a brief illness. He was the son of the late Thomas and Katherine Nolan and a brother of the late Esther and John Nolan. For several years he was employed as a plumber and was held in high esteem by a large number of friends. The funeral will be held from the Jensen and Deegan Funeral Home, 15 Downs street, Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock and at 9:30 at St. Joseph's Church where a requiem Mass will be offered for the repose of his soul. Burial will be in St. Mary's Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home this afternoon and evening.

Anthony F. Benz, a lifelong resident of Connelly, died this morning following a long illness. Surviving are his wife, the former Elsie Jain; two daughters, Gertrude and Alice Benz at home, and three sisters, Mrs. Lorenzo Prosser of Kingston, Mrs. Robert Evans of Kingston and Mrs. Fred Webster of Connelly. For 25 years Mr. Benz had been employed by the Socony Vacuum Oil Company. He was held in high regard by officials and his co-workers. During his tenure with the company he made many friends throughout Ulster county, who held him in high esteem. Fraternally, he was a member of Hasbrouck Engine Company of Connelly for many years. His funeral will be held from the Jensen and Deegan Funeral Home, 15 Downs street, Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Burial will be in River View Cemetery, Port Jervis.

The funeral of John Miller, who died suddenly on Saturday, was held this afternoon at his residence, 169 Albany avenue, this city. Besides his wife, he is survived by two brothers, Thomas Miller of Rockville Center, L. I., and Commander Bruce Miller of Swarthmore, Pa. Mr. Miller was the son of Thomas Miller, of New York, who was the owner of the New York Cement Co. operators of a large cement plant in Rosendale in the early part of the century. He was a member of the class of 1906, Columbia University, of the Phi Delta Theta Fraternity, of the Columbia University Club, and the Columbia Varsity "C" Club, having rowed on the Columbia varsity crew at Poughkeepsie in 1904 and '05. From 1921 to 1931 he was an executive of the Socony Vacuum Oil Co. in Cairo, Egypt. He retired from active business in 1931, and since that time had resided in Kingston.

DIED

BENZ—Entered into rest Tuesday, October 22, 1946, Anthony F., husband of Mrs. Elsie Jain Benz, father of Gertrude and Alice Benz, brother of Mrs. Lorenzo Prosser, Mrs. Robert Evans and Mrs. Fred Webster. Relatives and friends are invited to attend the funeral from the Jensen and Deegan Funeral Home, 15 Downs street on Friday afternoon at 2 p. m. Burial in the family plot in Riverview Cemetery in Port Jervis.

STONE RIDGE

Stone Ridge, Oct. 23—Friday evening, weather permitting, the locomotive of Local 381, 40 and 8 Society, Ulster county, will make its appearance in Stone Ridge in connection with the last U.S.O. drive, sponsored by the Town of Marlborough Post, with Commander Jansen and Legionnaire Bob Wager co-chairmen. The Grange hall could be secured for the drive, as the benefit dance for the baseball team has the hall for that evening, but through the courtesy of Duffie Wilkins permission was obtained to address the dance assembly. The schedule of the locomotive could not be changed, as it had been arranged some time. Ross K. Osterhoudt will be one of the speakers of the evening. Marlborough has been allotted $300 of the county quota of $12,000. With Marlborough boys still serving their country in isolated posts and the U.S.O. furnishing a great deal of the entertainment they receive, it is felt that the people of the town will not let the drive down, and that the present drive, like others during the war years, will go over the top.

Munich, Oct. 22 (AP)—Assistant Secretary of War Howard C. Peterson told a press conference today that Congress would be asked in January for a $100,000,000 appropriation for the care of displaced persons in the American zone of Germany for the current fiscal year.

"Displaced persons represent the major problem of the United States army in its occupation of Germany," Peterson said. "The care of D.P.s. is a great burden, a costly load, but in my personal opinion the money has been well spent. This is probably the great-

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, OCTOBER 22, 1946

NATHANIEL L. GOLDSTEIN

The Republican candidate for re-election to the office of Attorney General of the State of New York is Nathaniel L. Goldstein.

Mr. Goldstein, an outstanding lawyer, is also a certified public accountant licensed by the State of New York and in the latter capacity has acted as consulting statistician to the Naval Affairs Committee of Congress. In the practice of law, he has had wide experience serving as special deputy attorney general of New York, assistant counsel to the late Samuel Untermyer and William D. Guthrie on the legislative committee to investigate housing and as associate counsel with Senator E. R. Brown to the state legislative committee investigating the finances of the City of New York. He also acted as assistant chief counsel to Selective Service in New York City.

The Republican candidate, who is a veteran of World War I, is active in a number of charitable, civic, religious and fraternal organizations. He was awarded the 1946 medallion by Alpha Epsilon Pi Fraternity as the outstanding leader in Jewish communal life and was nominated by Freedom House and presented with the first United Nations emblem based on the United Nations official insignia.

The attorney general will be returned to office by a large plurality.

No one need fear starvation. Scientists announce that a simple operation will equip the stomach to digest grass quite comfortably.

INDOMITABLE WILL

Almost 1,500 of the 32,000 veterans returning to the Bell Telephone System throughout the country have some war-contracted disability. Only 24 of them, however, are unemployable. Over 1,000 of the disabled have been able to resume the jobs they held before the war.

This inspiring record of handicaps overcome, according to a company personnel official, "is due in a large measure to the men's indomitable will to rise above their physical limitations." The head of the Disabled American Veterans Association, Irving Peltz, an excellent example of this attitude, has learned to operate a tricky speed engine lathe despite the loss of an arm and a leg at Anzio.

Cooperating with the rehabilitation program have been business interests everywhere, like the National Manufacturers' Association and its 15,000 member companies as well as many small firms. Support from industry is necessary, of course, but the return to usefulness of the war-injured is in the long run a tribute to their own unconquerable souls.

The navy has developed a plane too fast for safety. No operator could run it and live unless every part functioned perfectly. There are already a good many automobiles like that.

BALKANIZING

The Florida orange industry is threatened by "foreign competition," say growers quoted by the Wall Street Journal. They mean California competition. This is another outcropping of a provincialism which, if not stopped, could break the United States up into 48 squabbling states. Regulations that keep out trucks from other states, or forbid state institutions to buy out-of-the-state coal, are other examples.

During the war these selfish rules, which would "Balkanize" the United States, were waived. They should be permanently abolished.

THE WORLD COMES NEAR

More than one-fifth of the 10,000 manufacturing firms in Chicago and northern Illinois are engaged in foreign trade. Their products, their mail, their executives, travel directly from that area to the countries with which they do business. Chicago's airport is

"These Days"

By George E. Sokolsky

NEW YORK'S CANVASS

I have generally held that the correct time to discover that a candidate has been elected is after the votes are counted. If the current polls, straw-votes, and similar devices to anticipate Election Day are to be believed, Tom Dewey will carry the State of New York by about a million votes. That hardly seems possible—my own guess is large enough, between 600,000 and 700,000 votes. But whatever the majority may be, present indications are that Dewey will be overwhelmingly elected.

And it would seem that that majority will carry along the whole ticket, it indicates that Dewey will defeat Herbert Lehman for the United States Senate and that at least five Republicans will unexpectedly be elected to the House of Representatives.

Now, it is generally considered had form to speak of a candidate's health, yet, had the American people had an honest and truthful report on Mr. Roosevelt's health in 1944, this nation would today not be faced with the prospect of two more years of Harry Truman. Certainly, Mr. Roosevelt's illness on the way to Yalta, at Yalta and subsequently should have been reported, and I am hopeful that when the Republicans get into office, they will make it a felony for a medical officer, civilian or military, to misinform the public on the state of the President's health. The matter is too serious for niceties.

And that leads me to Herbert Lehman. He resigned as Governor of the State of New York on December 2, 1942. Now, many believed that this was done to give Charles Poletti a chance to be Governor for a month or so; but the general impression was unfavorable because, no matter what the reason, he should, it was felt, have remained in office until his elected successor took office. Then Herbert Lehman was appointed to direct UNRRA, a world relief organization to which the United States has contributed more than 70 per cent of the cost. UNRRA has not been admirably administered. In fact, it has become an instrument of power politics and is now being disbanded and its work is to be taken over eventually by UN. The criticism of its policies, its administration, and its personnel has been constant and generally justified.

During the heat of the criticism of UNRRA, Lehman resigned from UNRRA on the grounds of ill health. This was on March 12, 1946. Surely no man leaves the captaincy of that kind of ship in stormy waters unless his illness is sufficiently serious to require it. Herbert Lehman is 68 years old; yet, Herbert Hoover, 72, in robust health, undertook a 50,000-mile trip by air to investigate world food conditions, including UNRRA operations, in the same year that Lehman resigned. The comparison is justified if Lehman retired on the grounds which he stipulated.

The point of the matter is that we must take Herbert Lehman's word for it that in March of this year he was so ill that he had to quit UNRRA. Yet, he is well enough to undertake a vigorous campaign for a six-year senatorial term expiring when he will be 74. The senior Senator from New York, Robert Wagner, is now 69 years old and has been, for some time, in ill health, requiring prolonged absences from the Senate. Neither ill health nor old age involves personal criticism; they simply raise the question of physical competence for particular types of work.

This makes for a serious situation and a peculiar one, for whereas it may please the vanity of many of their careers and lives in the United States Senate, conscientious work in that body requires the full time and abundant energy of alert and keen men. With due respect for age and experience, the Senate is not an old-man's club, nor is it proper that the younger generations should be unrepresented in it. The principal problems it will face in its next sessions are for the future—for the stabilization of the economic life of this country during the next decades. It is doubtful whether either Robert Wagner or Herbert Lehman can perform such a task adequately.

BARBITURATE POISONING

The barbiturate drugs are so helpful in relieving pain, inducing sleep and quieting delirious patients that they are being prescribed by the majority of physicians. For some time it was possible to obtain these drugs without a physician's prescription but today druggists are very careful not to supply even friends without a prescription, as they realize that despite its great benefit to humanity, phenobarbital or other barbiturate drug can be not only habit forming but can cause death given in large doses. Such large doses are now taken that physicians today are meeting many cases of barbiturate poisoning which may require long and persistent treatment. Because an individual has taken a "sleeping pill" and is sleeping soundly may give a false sense of security to the family or friends, is the statement of Drs. A. W. Freireich and J. W. Lundberg, Hempstead, N. Y., in the Journal of the American Medical Association. This means that valuable time is lost in starting treatment. If active treatment is not undertaken rapidly death will occur from depression of the breathing apparatus.

What is the treatment suggested by these two physicians?

They recommend the use of amphetamine sulfate (benzedrine sulfate). "Fourteen patients poisoned with barbiturates were treated with amphetamine sulfate injected into a vein. Thirteen patients recovered and one died. The service of life effect except some headaches. The person who died had not recovered, in our estimation, a sufficient quantity of amphetamine sulfate because no more of the drug was available."

Although 14 cases is not a large number the fact that 13 recovered and the 14 might have recovered had sufficient of the drug been available tells its own story.

I have spoken before of how the use of amphetamine sulfate taken in tablet form is much after breakfast and after lunch, with a habit of phenobarbital at bedtime to give rest has cured 19 of 36 cases of chronic alcoholism. The amphetamine sulfate gives the alcohol such a boost that he can get along without alcohol. It also decreases the desire for alcohol.

Americans everywhere must stretch their current thinking to a realization of the international commerce so rapidly developing. It is fairly easy for young Americans to grasp this new concept of broadened horizons. Oldsters must wake up to it, too, for daily the world crowds to this country's doorstep.

Arthur C. Chipp is now completing his first term as one of the coroners of the county of Ulster and his record during the past three years has demonstrated that he is a willing, capable and efficient public officer. The voters of Ulster county should return him to the office again this fall for a continuance of the effective service which he has rendered during the current term.

Today in Washington

United States Congressional Elections Are Being Watched Closely by Russian Propaganda Officers in Foreign Sections
By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Oct. 22.—The Russian propaganda offices abroad are taking a deep interest in the congressional elections in the United States. The radio broadcasts vary from denunciations of both Democratic and Republican parties as "reactionary" to friendly comments about the C.I.O.-P.A.C. as representing the only progressive sentiment in this country.

The Soviet spokesmen often refer disparagingly to Senator Vandenberg, who is a candidate for reelection in Michigan, and they talk of Henry Wallace's speech at Madison Square Garden "as a signal for a drive to rally the country's progressive forces."

The Moscow commentators denounce the "atomic diplomacy" of the United States as the work of "reactionaries" and also emphasize the pressures inside the United States to get American troops out of China. For whether the Soviets admit they are behind the Chinese Communists, it is apparent that the Russians want American troops withdrawn from the hope that the Communists in China will have a free hand.

The Russian propagandists are busy, too, on the short-wave radio denouncing American foreign policies. The whole situation is strangely reminiscent of the tactics used by the Nazis who thought they could influence American election campaigns by press and radio comments.

Theoretically it is an intrusion for the Soviet press and radio, which is controlled by the Russian government, to be interfering comments plainly designed to influence the American electorate but since the voices of Democracy have been raised in Europe by elections behind the "iron curtain" with freedom of speech for everybody, there can be not the slightest objection now perhaps to Russian comments.

Indeed, it may be that the Russian propaganda will be helpful to American voters in making their selections. Thus, unless the C.I.O.-P.A.C. repudiates the apparent sympathy being expressed for its cause by the Moscow radio, many Americans will, mistakenly or not, get the impression that a vote for the C.I.O.-P.A.C. is a vote desired by the Communists.

WOODSTOCK

Woodstock, Oct. 22—Last Sunday afternoon the Wittenberg Sportsman Club sponsored a turkey shoot. The name "Turkey Shoot" is a left-over from the days when the actual turkey would be tied behind a log and the participants would fire whenever he stuck his head in view. In the 1940s the turkey is drawn blood with the turkey. Enter the law, and now the sport is slightly modified. The participants are divided into squads according to their shooting ability. Each man has 10 shots at clay pigeons and the ones who make the most hits in each squad win a turkey.

Sunday, there were 12 turkeys given away plus prizes of hunting caps, socks and knives. There was a crowd of about 150 attending and coffee and sandwiches were served to these from the clubhouse during the event.

Plans for Woodstock's new day nursery school, Rainbow House, have been completed. The school will be located at the site formerly occupied by the Nordkap restaurant and will open November 9. The school will be open from 9 a. m. to 12 a. m. daily and the charge will be $3 per week. Mrs. Baensch, who trained under Mary Montessorio in Italy for this work, will be director and supervisor of the project.

Miss Jean Strain is closing her house in Woodstock for the winter. She will leave sometime this week for Wilmington, Del.

Fisherman Catch Big
Big-fishing may be a new sport in New Zealand, judging from the experience of W. Barr, of Huala, and his family, who set out in two small boats on the Manauku Harbor recently. What at first they took for sharks, and then porpoises, turned out to be two wild pigs, a sow and a boar, swimming across an arm of the sea. The boats were maneuvered to trap the sow between them. It was stunned with an arrow, killed and hauled aboard, despite interference from the boar, which bumped against the boats.

"At Century's Turn"

By H. L. VAN DEUSEN

One of the big events in the industrial life of Kingston in 1903 was the building and placing in operation of the U. S. Laclede Curran Mills, which today is still one of the leading industries of Kingston.

Turning from industry to civic affairs, Morris Block assumed the duties of mayor for his second term on January 1, 1904, when he announced the members of his cabinet.

They were John T. Cummings, city clerk; Augustus H. Van Buren, corporation counsel; David Weil, city treasurer; Edward B. Codwise, city engineer; Henry Beck, street superintendent; Michael A. Reis, city assessor; Richard Murphy, collector of unpaid taxes; Max Fein, sealer of weights and measures, and John J. Gassen, janitor of the city hall.

Col. John McEntee, long active in the industrial life of the city, died on December 19, 1903, in his home on East Chestnut street, aged 68 years. He was a veteran of the Civil War.

Upon his return from the war he was appointed to a responsible position in the New York custom house. Later he was employed in business in Boston. He then came to Kingston and engaged in the operation of an iron foundry with John Dillon.

Col. McEntee was also active in politics and served as alderman of the old Fourth ward, and for a number of years as a member of the water board.

The third annual exhibition of the Ulster County Poultry, Pigeon and Pet Stock Association opened in Cooney's Hall on Railroad avenue on December 16, 1903.

The officers of the association that year were Arthur Robinson of Rifton, president; Oliver Carter of Tilton, vice president; Frank Mills of Rifton, secretary and treasurer; L. P. Clark of Tilton, superintendent of poultry with H. D. Craig of Tilton as his assistant; W. S. Mead of Woodstock was superintendent of pigeons and pet stock.

One of the active musical organizations of Kingston at the turn of the century was the Y.M.C.A. Glee Club that on December 16, 1903, gave its annual concert in Association Hall on Pine Grove avenue, with Harry P. Dodge as director.

The guest artist was Edith Davies, pianist and reciter.

The members of the club that year were William E. DeGroot, Benjamin H. Sleight, Charles W. Britt, Richard E. Sleight, Edgar N. Paxon, J. P. Osterhout, Alexander B. Shufeldt, Bernard W. Healy, John T. R. Hall, Clarence H. Peters, Walter J. Woods, Charles A. Terwilliger, Edna W. Prout, F. Morse Roosa and Arthur G. Carr.

The club quartet, Charles W. Britt, J. P. Osterhout, Harry P. Dodge and Arthur G. Carr, sang several selections, while solo songs were sung by Messrs. Osterhout and Carr.

The second annual banquet of the Ulster County Bar Association was held in the old Eagle Hotel on Main street on December 14, 1903.

Howard Chipp, president of the association, presided as toastmaster, and among the speakers were Judge D. Cadz Herriek, William P. Rusk, Senator John Linson, Judge G. D. B. Haskin, Judge A. J. Clearwater and Charles W. Watson.

17,000 Germans Protest Bombings By Work Stoppage

Stuttgart, Germany, Oct. 22.—Nearly 17,000 German workmen staged a 15-minute work stoppage today in protest against the bombing of the Stuttgart area, staged Saturday by anti-aircraft extremists for denazification.

The demonstration, led by Left trade unions, affected all of Stuttgart, with its population of 400,000. Workers left their benches in Stuttgart factories from 11 a. m. to 11:15 and hundreds were left waiting at street corners as street cars stopped during the protest.

Fifty-eight Germans were arrested in two of last night's raids.

Total U. S. consumer income from $76 billion in 1940 to $100 billion in 1945.

Will Try 8 Men For Matteotti's Death Years Ago

Rome, Oct. 22 (AP)—Eight gray-haired men will go on trial December 11 for the assassination 22 years ago of Giacomo Matteotti, bitter foe of Mussolini.

The crime in the early days of Fascism shocked the world. The approaching trial has caused but a ripple of interest and received only a paragraph on the back pages of Roman newspapers. The Black Shirt leaders whom Prosecutor Giovanni Spagnuolo wanted to try are now only dark memories.

"We wanted to try Mussolini for the murder," he said. "It's obvious the order came from him. Giovanni Marinelli, who actually gave the order, wouldn't have moved without a sign from Mussolini."

Marinelli, the secretary of the Fascist Party, and Marshal Emilio DeBono, who was chief of police at the time, both died before Fascist firing squads in 1943 for their part in overthrowing Mussolini. Both had been wanted for trial. Mussolini and his mistress were lynched just before peace.

Matteotti had attacked Mussolini in parliament. He was seized on June 10, 1924, and his mutilated body was found near Rome weeks later.

The defendants are small fry. Francesco Giunta once was undersecretary of the interior. Amerigo Dumini and Amleto Poveromo were tried once before for the crime, convicted, sentenced to five years and pardoned after a few months. The Italian supreme court annulled that trial. The others are Cesare Rossi, Filippo Filippelli, Giuseppe Viola, Augusto Malacra, and Filippo Pozzeri.

Trainmen to Face Arraignments Tomorrow

Glens Falls, N. Y., Oct. 22 (AP)—A Delaware and Hudson railroad engineer and fireman will be arraigned tomorrow at Lake George on indictments charging second degree manslaughter and criminal negligence in connection with a train wreck August 26 in which an engineer was killed.

The indictments, returned yesterday by a Warren county grand jury to State Supreme Court Justice John Alexander, named Fred McCrea of Colonie and Basil Huestis, 44, of Albany.

McCrea and Huestis were the engineer and fireman, respectively, of a vacation special returning more than 300 children to New York city from Adirondack camps which collided head-on with a regular northbound passenger train near The Glen.

Frank J. Keenan, engineer of the northbound train, was killed. The indictments charged the pair with operating their train in a culpably negligent manner and failing to obey orders of the railroad by not stopping at the Glen where the train was to have entered a siding.

thing possible to show you that the majority of veterans in New York state are 100 per cent behind you."

Chase is a New York state veterans' counselor.

Touche on 'Sitdown'

Dewey touched on the 23-hour "sitdown" in his speech last night, repeating what he had told them. "By reason of the incredible incompetence of the Washington administration," he said, "it is still practically impossible to buy anywhere in the country, a stick of lumber, a piece of wall board, a bathroom fixture or even a 10-cent nail."

Furthermore, federal agencies have asserted a super-priority on housing materials for projects of their own, Dewey said. Nevertheless, he reported, New York has completed more veterans housing than the other 47 states combined and has "outbuilt the federal government in this state by three to one."

Dewey cited other state services to veterans and declared that "these are not partisan matters—they must not be made partisan matters."

Home Service Unit Listens to Red Cross Talks at Meeting

Mrs. Dorothy Fasanella, general field representative of the North Atlantic area office of the American Red Cross, spoke Monday afternoon to the volunteer home service workers of the Ulster County Chapter. The meeting was held in the First Dutch Reformed Church House on Main street, with thirty members present.

Mrs. Fasanella gave an account of her experiences overseas with the 46th Army General Hospital in Besancon, France, as a Red Cross Hospital recreation worker. She also told of her recent experience as a disaster worker in connection with the Elmiria flood.

Mrs. Evelyn D. Hubbard, executive director, expressed the sincere appreciation of the chapter for the work accomplished by the volunteers in the Home Service program. She assured the members that without their time and efforts it would be impossible to continue this work on such a large scale.

Mrs. Ethel K. Wood, Home Service Director, outlined the work of the home service department and urged continued cooperation of the volunteers.

U. S. Labor Policy Is Needed, Ives Declares at Rome

Rome, N. Y., Oct. 22 (AP)—Establishment of a national labor policy is one of four steps necessary to "lay the groundwork for a mature approach to the permanent solution" of management-labor problems, in the opinion of Irving M. Ives, G.O.P. nominee for U. S. senator from New York.

Addressing a rally of Rome and Oneida county Republicans last night, Ives, who is dean of the State School of Industrial and Labor Relations at Cornell University, asserted that President Truman's administration had "no basic labor policy."

The retiring assembly majority leader said other needed steps were: (1) "No change in statutes affecting industrial and labor relations until free collective bargaining has been once more restored;" (2) Efforts to extend the "voluntary process" for settling management-labor issues; and (3) Safeguarding of the rights of labor while recognizing rights which are "fundamentally reserved to management."

Ives joins Governor Dewey in a G.O.P. rally at Syracuse tonight.

British Trade Congress Wants All in Unions

Brighton, England, Oct. 22 (AP)—The Trade Union Congress, representing over 6,000,000 British workers, today adopted a declaration of its general council setting forth the principle that no worker has the right to stay out of a union.

Only two dissenting votes were cast as the congress, backbone of the British Labor Party, approved the statement favoring 100 per cent unionism.

"The liberty of the individual is not an absolute and unqualified right," the council statement declared. "It is subject to restrictions for social ends which admit of no compromise, and one of them is that the presence of non-unionists may result, and often has resulted in the past, in the stoppage of an entire trade."

"No consideration, either of ethics or expediency, can justify a man or woman taking, without return, the benefit of sacrifices made by their fellow workers in building up a union," the council held.

Committees Work On V.F.W. Ball for Friday Night Here

General Chairman Jordan Commended for Efforts; Event Will Feature Shep Fields Band

According to William H. Jordan, who has been busy with details for the past several months, the program is rounding out satisfactorily for the second annual V.E. V-J ball at Joyce-Schmick Post, 1386, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Friday night in the municipal auditorium, featuring Shep Fields' band and an all star entertainment program.

Commander Howard Pangburn of the Vets' post in commenting on advance arrangements for the ball paid high tribute to General Chairman Jordan. "Comrade Jordan is an untiring worker," he said. "He's been giving a lot of time and effort. His work and that of our various committees indicates that our social event on October 25 will surpass anything the V.F.W. has ever promoted."

Ever since the announcement that Shep Fields would play for the ball, ticket sales have been very encouraging. "The way folks have been responding and comments I've heard show that the Vets picked a winner in Fields," Chairman Jordan said.

Members of the various committees for the ball and hostesses from business firms in this area working on promotion of the event are:

Honorary committee—Judge Bernard A. Culleton, Judge Roscoe V. Elsworth, Mayor William E. Edelmuith, Judge Harry E. Schrick, Alderman at Large John J. Schwenk, Senator Arthur H. Wicks.

Chapman Says Red Interference Will Be Stopped Nov. 5

New York, Oct. 22 (AP)—Alger B. Chapman, Republican state campaign manager, says New York state voters will "resent and reject" what he termed Russian interference in the gubernatorial contests by re-electing Gov. Thomas E. Dewey.

Chapman referred to comments made yesterday over radio Moscow by Commentator A. Ossipov who declared that the U. S. election campaign was a struggle between "reaction" and the "progressive forces of the country" in the vanguard of which he placed the C.I.O. Political Action Committee.

"It is not accidental that the C.I.O. Political Action Committee supports progressive candidates in the elections, whatever their affiliations and oppose reactionary candidates, Republican or Democratic," Ossipov said.

Chapman declared in a statement yesterday: "We Americans enjoy the rough and tumble vigor of our political contests. Our elections have a flavor and tradition all their own. But we resent and we reject foreign influence, from whatever source."

"The U.S.S.R. has taken an official stand on the election in our state. According to the newspapers, the Moscow radio * * * commended the A.L.P.-Democratic candidates supported by the C.I.O."

"The A.L.P.-Democratic candidate cannot deny that under the Moscow version of freedom of press and radio any public utterance from Moscow is the 'voice of the Kremlin'."

"In spite of the soft disavowals of Communist support by some A.L.P.-Democratic candidates, it is interesting to note that Communist Russia wants a victory for them in November—obviously for the reason that Moscow is aware that its purposes would thus be better served."

"The voters of New York state will resent and reject Moscow's interference in their affairs by overwhelming re-electing Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and his entire team and sending Irving M. Ives to Washington as U. S. senator."

Suggests That Veterans Get Reduced Fares

All railroads operating in New York state were urged to extend special commutation rates to World War 2 veterans attending schools and colleges on a full time basis under the G. I. Bill of Rights in a letter sent out today by Edward J. Neary, director of the New York State Division of Veterans' Affairs.

State students under 21 years of age currently travel on railroads at special rates, but most G. I. students, being over the age limit must pay full fare under the present arrangement.

In his letter to the railroads, Mr. Neary also stressed that most ex-servicemen going to school full time under the G. I. Bill are supporting themselves and dependents solely on the educational subsistence benefits provided by the federal government.

German Frau Says Her Sex as Much To Blame as Men

Dr. Strecker Says Women Are Ripe for Change in Thinking Which May Alter World

By ADELAIDE KERR (AP Newsfeatures Writer)

South Kortright, N. Y., Oct. 22 (AP)—"If German women could be changed, the whole world would be changed—and they are ripe for that change now," says Frau Gabrielle Strecker, only German delegate to the International Assembly of Women just concluded here.

Dr. Strecker is a physician of Bad Homburg and director of women's radio programs at the Frankfort (Germany) radio station. In both jobs she has wide contact with German women.

"German women were just as responsible as men for the rise of Hitler," she said, her blue eyes snapping behind her shining spectacles, her blonde hair ruffled under her fingers. "They were not accustomed to independent thinking and they were easily influenced by propaganda. They loved the idea of military glory for their men."

"Now, for the first time they have felt the destruction of war and suffered from it. They suffer more than men. The Nazi government took all responsibility from women—now suddenly they have to think for themselves. The Nazis talked about the glorification of German mothers, but actually degraded German women to production machines. Now they have to support the illegitimate babies they produced. They were trained to be servants of men and were supported. Now thousands have to earn their own living. They were taught they belonged to the master race. Now they have to take any job they can get—scrubbing floors or anything. Can you imagine the psychological effect of all this?"

Convinced War Is Bad

"Now the German women are absolutely convinced war is a bad thing. They are full of despair and distrust. They have no outlook for the future. They are in a position where you could start something. They are ripe for change."

"If they could be changed the whole world would be changed. German women can influence their children in peaceful ways—teach them how terrible war is. Under the Nazis—in spite of all their talk of glorifying motherhood—the influence of German mothers was very small. German women felt this and they are determined to do something. German women will be able to change their men too—little by little."

Dr. Strecker came here to attend the conference where 191 women delegates from 54 countries discussed the political, economic, social and spiritual problems of the world. She said that during the war she was no heroine, but "simply kept quiet" and did her work, though she helped a number of Jews escape to the United States.

Resumed Study in 1940

She took up the study of medicine after her marriage to Dr. Josef Strecker, gynecologist, and the birth of her two sons, dropped it when the Nazis opposed wives working outside the home and resumed it in 1940. She received her degree in medicine from the University of Frankfurt in 1943 and practiced until after the close of the war, when, she says, American occupation authorities asked her to direct women's radio programs.

As long as she talked of German women, Dr. Strecker kept her eyes dry. But when she began to speak of the "kindness and friendliness" she had met from Americans since she began her trip to the United States in a U. S. Army plane, she wept in spite of herself.

"I thought everyone here would point at me and sneer because I am a German," she said. "But on what kindness and friendliness I met from Americans from the moment I started."

It's 'Paradise Here'

"You live in a paradise here. You are so full of hope and optimism. Mein Gott! If you could see the faces of the German women—so full of despair. In Munich the American army wives and civilian wives started a 'house of friendship' where the American women met with the German women. No men are allowed. We think it's wonderful. We have a great shortage of teachers in Germany now. I wish American teachers could come and teach the German children. I wish we could exchange lectures too."

I believe we can go a long way toward permanent peace through the German women."

Meeting Is Held

The quarterly meeting of the Workmen's Benefit Fund Society was held at the Hotel Ulster, Kingston, October 12. Mr. Puttitz opened the meeting and introduced the guest speaker, Mr. Blumberg, of the Social Security Administration. After a short business session, during which all the officers of the previous year were again nominated and elected for the coming year, a social hour was enjoyed.

Tribute Is Paid

Hyde Park, N. Y., Oct. 22 (AP)—Representatives of 54 countries who concluded meetings of the International Assembly of Women at South Kortright yesterday paid tribute today to the memory of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt. The delegates, en route to New York for a final meeting Thursday, were to have tea at Vassar College after visiting Mr. Roosevelt's grave.

Woman Is Killed, Man Is Wounded

Washington, Oct. 22 (AP)—A woman identified by police as Margaret Hogan, attractive 41-year-old government employee, was fatally shot in her apartment yesterday and a man police named as Ralph D. Whitt, 31, a rug salesman, was critically wounded.

Two hours after the woman died in Emergency Hospital police said they believed Whitt shot her and then turned the gun on himself but added their investigation was incomplete.

Sgt. Bernard C. Crooke of the Homicide Squad said: "He apparently shot her."

The shooting, climax of a lover's quarrel, police said, took place in the third floor apartment of the woman, a payroll clerk in the Treasury Department. She was shot three times in the abdomen and died an hour later. Whitt was wounded once or twice in the head.

Kenneth Farrell, 17, told police he was in a second-floor apartment and heard five shots in rapid succession, followed by a woman's screams of "stop."

Running upstairs, he related, he found Miss Hogan opening the door of her apartment. She gasped "he shot me—then shot himself," then collapsed, Farrell told members of the Homicide Squad. Miss Helen Crawford, roommate of Miss Hogan, said Whitt had been a friend of the dead woman for a little less than a year. Miss Crawford said Miss Hogan came here from Hempstead, L. I., about four years ago. Police said Miss Hogan had an uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rockett, in Hempstead.

From papers on his person, police said Whitt's home was in High Point, N. C. Friends said he had been employed here for several years.

Miss Hogan's aunt said her niece, who was born and brought up in Hempstead, last visited her on Saturday. Her father had owned two hotels there but her parents now are dead.

When you consider how much more you'll get by waiting for a new Pontiac—you'll agree that here is one case where waiting pays off in handsome dividends.

Pontiac leads its field by such a wide margin because there is no substitute for what it offers. There is no substitute for Pontiac beauty—for Pontiac performance—for Pontiac comfort—for Pontiac safety and handling ease. And the years of wartime usage proved conclusively that there is no substitute for Pontiac dependability! For reasons beyond our control, which we regret as much as you, production is below what had been anticipated. But improvement is being made—and the wait, from here out, may be shorter than you think. But whatever the time before your Pontiac is ready—wait! When you do get it—you'll have the finest automobile offered at anywhere near the price!

COMPLETE SERVICE OFFERED

While awaiting your new Pontiac, keep your present car running at peak efficiency with proper service and upkeep. Money thus spent may prevent failures at some inconvenient time and will protect your car's trade-in value. Our complete service facilities are offered at reasonable prices.

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

By ED CREACH
(For Hal Boyle)

London, Oct. 22 (AP)—Almost anything can happen in an English day. For instance:

Pat Marchant, 21, found wandering in the street on her wedding night, explained to police, there was no room in her husband's parents' house. . . . Mrs. Elsie Hart showed up at a Sianese cat show with an entry named "Shah-Pa-Shah"—phonetic French, she explained, for "cat-not-cat."

The owner of another cat, which wolfed a neighbor's fish and dinner pies, was forgiven by the Liverpool county court, which held that the cat was "following its natural propensities."

W. E. Nicholson of Torquay died and left 177,649 pounds ($719,436) to his two pounds (88) a week housekeeper. . . . Mrs. A. Pratt of Middlesbrough got tired of being about the housing shortage and took a job as a bricklayer's helper. . . . The Eton Rural Council ruled that restaurant diners must not be fed to dogs.

Alternating current electricians went on strike at a London hotel but the DC. men stayed at the fuse boxes.

An eagle-eyed member of Parliament noted that the penalty for giving away atom secrets, under new legislation, is 500 pounds ($2,000)—one-tenth the penalty for building a new back porch without government permission.

Because of the help shortage, Nelson said, he must "set the ads, the news, run the press, do job printing, wrap, mail and deliver the papers and sleep a little every other night."

Fair Offer

Centralia, Ill., Oct. 22 (AP)—Mayor O. W. Wright offered today $1 for a ticket for an event which occurred nearly 100 years ago.

Carl Comstock of Pecatonica, Ill., wrote the mayor that he had a ticket for the Illinois Agricultural Society Fair, which was held in Centralia on September 13, 1858. "Make me an offer," Comstock wrote.

Wright said maybe the ticket would be the start of a municipal museum.

Millions have suffered in silence with the miseries of Pin-Worms—but need suffer no longer! Today, thanks to a special, medically recognized drug, a highly effective treatment has been made possible. This drug is the vital ingredient in P-W, the Pin-Worm tablets developed in the laboratories of Dr. D. Jayne & Son.

The small, easy-to-take P-W tablets act in a special way to remove Pin-Worms and relieve that tormenting rectal itch. So if you suspect Pin-Worms in your child or yourself, ask your druggist for a package of JAYNE'S P-W right away, and follow the directions.

Felton, Minn., Oct. 22 (AP)—Mrs. Jessie M. Junge made a hurried trip to nearby Moorhead in the hopes she could purchase a few hard-to-get items—meat, sugar, etc.

When she got back home she discovered thieves had broken into her house. They, too, were looking for scarce articles, Mrs. Junge said. They stole her supply of sugar, raisins, coffee—and a 15-pound roast which she had left cooking in the oven.

Fair Offer

Centralia, Ill., Oct. 22 (AP)—Mayor O. W. Wright offered today $1 for a ticket for an event which occurred nearly 100 years ago.

Carl Comstock of Pecatonica, Ill., wrote the mayor that he had a ticket for the Illinois Agricultural Society Fair, which was held in Centralia on September 13, 1858. "Make me an offer," Comstock wrote.

Wright said maybe the ticket would be the start of a municipal museum.

Figs Is Pigs

Milwaukee, Oct. 22 (AP)—Farmer Henry Ignaciak says he and his pigs have one thing in common—they're fed up.

Ignaciak paid a $20 fine in a district court on a trespassing charge—but his 50 pigs were the trespassers. Neighbors testified the porkers had been coming on their property and eating tomatoes, oats, apples, flowers, etc.

"Here I am trying to get more meat on the tables," Ignaciak told the court, "and what do I get out of it? Help is scarce, nails to fix fences are scarce. I've worked hard and all I get for those pigs is grief."

"Extinct" Hyena Shot

Hyenas are supposed, to have been extinct in the Free State section of South Africa for 50 years, but a full grown, striped one was shot recently on Andries Linde's farm near Mockesdam, after killing five lambs. How it got there is a mystery. Hyenas are scavengers which ordinarily move singly or in pairs in the wake of lions. One theory is that the animal wandered from Bechuanaland and up the Modder River, until it took to the hills for rocky shelter.

SEATING GUESTS IN CAR

An interesting letter says: "We live in a small town, midway between the movies and the shopping centers. Therefore, we have told our car-less neighbors that whenever they would like to go with us, to say so. We go on regular days to do our shopping and we go on regular evenings to the movies."

"On these occasions I sit up front with my husband. The other day, two sisters, who live together and are considerably older than we are, joined us at the car before I was seated. One of them got in front with my husband and explained that her sister would sit in back with me so we could have a little visit. We do not know any of our neighbors very well."

"I've always felt that the social edict separating husbands and wives at dinners, etc., took no consideration of a good many husbands and wives who live being with each other best. But we'll forget that grievance and abide by it. However, when it comes to these car situations, I draw the line."

"In the future, may I get in with my husband as I always have and give the back seat over to the others? Or do you suppose their action that day was a manners reminder?"

This particular neighbor took a good deal upon herself in directing who was to sit where in your car. Therefore, she personally was in the wrong. Ordinarily if you were inviting friends to go for an afternoon drive, it would be rude to put your guests together in the back and sit in the front with your husband, unless you were going over unknown roads and you had to read a road map for him. In this case, you should explain. But in your particular situation where you really are running a sort of friendly bus line for the convenience of your neighbors, your sitting in front with your husband would be quite proper.

Boutonnieres

Dear Mrs. Post: Does the bridegroom and his best man have to wear white boutonnieres when the bride is not wearing white bridal clothes and is not carrying white flowers?

Answer: No.

Is a man expected to give his seat on a bus or streetcar to a strange woman? The answer is found in Mrs. Post's leaflet, "Manners on the Street," obtainable for a 3-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope.

CHESTER MCBRIDE

Stressing the importance of first aid courses in peacetime as well as during war, Deputy Fire Chief Harold A. Sanford, chairman of the local Red Cross chapter's committee on this phase of work, urges all first aid instructors to take the refresher course to be given at the Kingston Laboratory from Monday, October 28 to Friday, November 1.

Evening instruction periods will start at 7:30, with Chester McBride as leader. An E.T.O. veteran with two battle stars, recently resumed his position with the Red Cross in the North Atlantic area, specializing in first aid, water safety and accident prevention.

Chairman Sanford pointed out that the Red Cross first aid textbook has been revised and students will benefit by instruction based on the most recent advances of medical science that have a bearing on emergency care of the injured, he said.

Mr. McBride was on the faculty of Chautauqua Red Cross Aquatic School for six years, teaching swimming, life saving and first aid. In his undergraduate days he was a three-sport athlete, competing in track, wrestling and soccer at Ithaca College.

Food Problems Acute As Refugees Pour In

Chandpur, India, Oct. 22 (AP)—The mass exodus of thousands of panic-stricken villagers from East Bengal trouble areas has seriously complicated the food problem in an area where famine always is a potential threat.

Refugees, all of whom have been pouring into this miserably overcrowded railway town since Moslem-Hindu disturbances began in the Noakhali and Tippera districts. Nearly all are from villages yet at peace. Only a small number come from the immediately affected areas.

Local government officials have been forced to deplete meager food stocks severely. Government supplies are being rushed from Calcutta to alleviate the situation, occurring in an area rice-deficient even in normal times.

A&P Truckers on Jobs, Meal Burdens Relieved

New York, Oct. 22 (AP)—Thousands of shoppers fought their way toward such scarce items as fats and soap today as 500 A. and P. stores, closed by the general trucking strike, reopened in the metropolitan area for the first time since September 14.

At one store in the Bronx where 3,000 shoppers milled, harried police had to order the store doors closed until lines could be reorganized. Special details of police were ordered at all newly opened chain stores in crowded neighborhoods.

The reopenings resulted from an agreement reached last Friday between A. & P. contract carriers and striking A.F.L. drivers, granting the drivers $71.40 for a 40-hour week, instead of $64 for a 44-hour week. Similar terms, embodied in the so-called "Bohach Plan," have been accepted previously by many other employers.

Further easing of the food shortage was promised later this week with the reopening of approximately 282 Safeway Food Stores, also closed since September 14. Drivers serving these stores will get the same terms as the A. & P. drivers.

Meanwhile, another attempt to settle the lingering strike will be made today at a joint employer and union session with U. S. Conciliator Lucien F. Jave.

But Joseph M. Adelson, spokesman of the joint committee representing employers who have not signed with the drivers under the Bohach Plan, said last night 80 large trucking firms pledged themselves to united opposition to the Bohach provisions and were "ready to support that pledge materially."

He declined to disclose what he meant by material support.

Kiwanis Minstrel Will Be Held to Help Scholarship

Board of Education Gives Use of High School for Shows Here
Dec. 9 and 10

Shades of Primrose and West-Dockster, and all the rest of the galaxy of minstrel bands nodded approvingly this week when the Board of Education agreed to permit use of the High School Auditorium on the evenings of December 9 and 10 to the Kiwanis Minstrel show. Proceeds from the entertainment are to be devoted to the Kiwanis scholarship awarded annually to a graduate of Kingston High School.

Feeling that Kingston has missed the excitement and good clean fun offered by the typically American minstrel for too long, a committee of the club headed by Vice-President G. Herbert DeKay is hard at work on the myriad details which will guarantee a long to be remembered night of pleasure. Paul Zuercher and Harold Clayton, both of whom have been successfully implicated in ventures of this type before, are rounding up the cast of local talent. In addition to specialty acts by well-known artists, the producers guarantee that every member of Kiwanis, young or old, will appear in the gala funfest.

Ticket sales are to be under the direction of Ray Gargaghan and Allen Baker and from advance indications, it would seem as though the large high school auditorium will be jammed on both nights.

The Kiwanis scholarship has been awarded for the past three years to a Kingston boy, for the purpose of easing financially the hard first year of college. The candidate is picked for scholarship value to the community in the field for which he is educationally preparing himself. So successful has the award proven itself that Kiwanis are anxious to continue and perhaps enlarge the scope of this project.

Assisting the Kiwanians of the committee mentioned above are William Leehive, Joseph Stout, Joseph Deegan, Maynard Mize and Harry Rigby, Jr.

Bevin Opens 2-Day Debate on Policy

place at an international conference called for the purpose.

Would End War of Nerves
Bevin reiterated that international negotiation would be helped "if the war of nerves ceased."

"A new atmosphere would be created," he declared, "which would enable the matter to be dealt with on a much better footing."

The foreign secretary, turning to one of Great Britain's major foreign affairs issues, declared: "We have done our best to re-create peace."

He announced British determination to see things there put right, and declared:

"So far as the government is concerned we will not desert Greece after the great comradeship that existed between us, and we shall pursue our policy of trying to assist her economically as well."

"Outside interference with Greece must stop."

His announcement roused cries of "leave her alone" from various sections of the house.

"I am not interfering," the foreign secretary retorted, "and neither is the government. I gave the line to all these charges."

He said Great Britain planned to withdraw her troops from Greece as "early as possible."

He said two special envoys had been sent to investigate charges that the Royalist government had obstructed the Greek trade union movement.

Hospitalized Veterans Want Watches to Fix

The Veterans Administration Hospital at Walla Walla, Washington, has been issued a call for old watches—the more worn out the better. They are wanted by patients in the Walla Walla V. A. Hospital to practice learning watchmaking. If you have such an old, battered, worn out timepiece send it to George E. ...

... and above all make their place, attractive if they are to compete in this highly competitive market, he said. The Catskill mountain area is the second largest vacationland area on the Eastern seaboard, only eclipsed by the Adirondacks and it is to be kept so and plans must be made now to meet competition.

Several in attendance spoke, offering suggestions for bettering conditions. S. B. Jacobson of Hunter said the party is over and that the hospitality must be ended and the food, additional recreation, and boarding house kept as clean up and modern as possible as attractive as possible both outside and inside. On the other hand, he said, the hotel should be what we call a "Dorset House."

Don H. S. Fellows also spoke, saying that a program of education which will attract people to the area must be re-established. He said that a revival of the area must be a result of the average vacationist's desire for greater distances from the city and greater restrictions permitted.

As a result of the discussions it was decided that the talks and the program should be a part of the meeting. At the conclusion of the formal portion of the meeting there was a general discussion period.

Area's 1947 Resort Plans Are Discussed at Dinner

Harris Dexter, Central Hudson vice president in charge of commercial relations, E. M. Huben, company's commercial representative and Edwin Strong, Kingston District manager, were hosts last night to newspaper and radio folk from Ulster and Greene counties at a resorts promotion dinner at the Governor Clinton Hotel, this city. ## Increased Effort For Resort Trade Stressed at Parley meeting last evening at the Governor Clinton Hotel where approximately 35 newspaper men and women from the Ulster-Greene county area met as guests of Central Hudson, stated that this was the fifth annual gathering of the nature.

The purpose of the meeting was to hear reports of the past year and to plan and outline the work for the coming season which would benefit and aid in development of the Ulster-Greene County Vacationland area. After welcoming the guests Mr. Dexter called upon Mr. Huben for his summary of the season's activities.

Drawing his conclusions from the figures, Mr. Huben said there was need for greater effort in the future if the benefits derived thus far from the advertising campaigns were to be continued and improved. The past season he reported as a very successful one from an over-all viewpoint.

The season started out well and shortly after the first of the year inquiries were received which filled all bungalows, houses, apartments and camps and by spring everything was filled. Boarding houses received early call for reservations and by early summer word was being spread that "everything was full" and there was more room available for the season. This caused many who usually come to this area to seek accommodations elsewhere.

Became Too Confident
This great demand early in the season caused many people to believe they were to have a record season and some of them slackened their efforts, some even failed to answer requests for reservations, some did not bother to put out folders but were content to rest on their oars, Mr. Huben said. In some areas boarding house keepers failed to pay attention to food and when OPA lifted the ban on July first many of them increased their prices from 10% to 50% and "gave nothing more for the increase."

This condition existed all over the country, through New England, on the shores and in the mountains with a result that people who had made reservations came and if conditions did not meet with their approval they moved out. Gas was available and many took to the roads. In fact, Mr. Huben said, the "people revolted."

Business over the July fourth holiday was the best ever experienced in the Ulster-Greene county area, but where houses raised prices and did not improve service, people moved out later in the season. Where good rates and good facilities prevailed the houses remained full until late in the season when cold weather caused many to return to the cities.

September and October have been good months again.

A state survey shows that the average vacationist spent $11.38 for two weeks vacation. This is 19 cents per week more than the average for 1945.

From facts indicated for 1946 Mr. Huben said the era of competition was here, an era which had been discussed last year. In order to meet the competition other areas, national and international competition better traveling facilities, cheaper travel and unlimited motor traffic it has now become necessary to double local efforts to sell this area to vacationists and bring them here.

A broader advertising program is needed. Boardinghouse keepers must come out of the dollar, profit and loss and above all make their place, attractive if they are to compete in this highly competitive market, he said. The Catskill mountain area is the second largest vacationland area on the Eastern seaboard, only eclipsed by the Adirondacks and it is to be kept so and plans must be made now to meet competition.

U. S. Receives Fresh Rebuff From Reds Over Bulgaria

Washington, Oct. 22 (AP)—Russia's jealous grip on the Balkans was underlined anew today as the State Department docketed still another Soviet rebuff—this time in connection with Bulgaria.

The issue—once again emphasizing Soviet resentment over any attempt to probe into Russia's spheres of interest—developed originally from a request made by Secretary of State Byrnes in Paris on September 24.

At that time, Byrnes asked for a special session of the tri-power Bulgarian Control Commission to "consider the steps" necessary to insure a free election in Bulgaria, and urged the following:

Freedom of press, radio and assembly for the opposition. Non-interference by the militia, either with candidates or voters, except to maintain law and order. Release of political prisoners or open declaration of charges against them. Elimination of any possible threat of post-election retaliation for political purposes.

Byrnes reaffirms Argentine Policy
Washington, Oct. 22 (AP)—Secretary of State Byrnes today reaffirmed this country's insistence that Argentina get rid of any Nazi agents harbored there.

Byrnes was asked at a news conference about reports that Spruille Braden would resign as assistant secretary of that policy is reversed.

The secretary said he knew of no intention by Braden to quit his post. Braden is in charge of Latin American affairs.

Tenth Annual Legion Oratorical Contest
The tenth high school oratorical contest, an annual activity of the American Legion has been announced by the Ulster County Americanism Committee, of which Donald G. Moore, state veterans counselor, is chairman.

Mr. Moore says that almost all of the high schools, together with the Legionnaires, have given full support to the patriotic enterprise and it is expected that every high school will have a winner by November 15.

On or about December 10 local contest winners will compete for county honors. Winners of the latter may compete for state and possibly for national honors.

The contest is conducted for all high school students under 19 years of age and is county wide. Prizes vary from $10 for local winners to a $4,000 scholarship for national winners. Last year more than 180,000 high school students competed and 43 states had entries in the national finals.

The purpose of the contest is to create interest and respect for our form of government; also to develop the finer points of oratory and better speech habits.

Information regarding the contest may be secured from high school students, or the local American Legion.

Five Ulster G.I.'s Are Training for Careers on Farms

Five Ulster county ex-G.I.'s are among 100 education-minded war veterans who have discarded the traditional cap and gowns for the overall and pitchfork, according to Charles C. Adams, Albany Regional Office Manager for the Veterans Administration.

Adams revealed that the V. A.'s "institutional-on-the-farm training program" has enrolled almost 100 veterans in the regional area, and that another 200 are expected to enroll in the near future.

Ulster county farms approved for the program are H. J. Cameron, Ulster Park; Alton Turkey Breeding Farm, Highland; Raymond V. O'DuBois, Gardiner; Frank Tanti, Gardiner; and Martin Lyons, Milton. Each farm employs one veteran in the training program.

Adams said that one of the unique features of the program was the emphasis upon individual training. Instruction both on and off the farm is designed to meet the individual needs of each veteran, and is carefully tailored to fit the type of farming in which the veteran hopes to specialize.

Veterans who want additional information on the farm training program are urged to contact the Veterans Administration Office, 286 Fair street; the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency, 240 Fair street, or the Ulster County Farm Bureau on John street.

Engineers, Owners Sign Agreement To Settle Walkout
Merchant Marine Institute, representing the operators, pending notification of the union membership and ship operating companies.

A spokesman for the marine engineers, who declared use of his name said earlier that a tentative agreement provided the following:

A 15 per cent general wage hike. The union originally sought a 35 per cent increase.

Payment of $1.60 per hour for overtime. The M.E.B.A. originally asked for $2 an hour and subsequently reduced the demand to $1.75 an hour.

Payment of $1.50 an hour on night relief work.

Inclusion of a preferential hiring clause which would state, in effect, that non-union engineers could be hired by ship operators, but that such employees would be expected to join the union after employment.

Present monthly pay rates for the engineers range from $224 for junior engineers to $493 for chief engineers on liberty ships, and $235 for junior engineers to $571 for chief engineers on American-class passenger ships.

At Red Falls six bad curves will be eliminated by relocating the highway for a distance of one half mile between Corne property at the foot of the hill and the Frechette cabins. The new line will cross Furnace Creek on a new culvert of 16-foot span, located about 200 feet south of the present bridge. A cut over 20 feet deep, will necessitate the acquisition of land on each side of the highway at the top of the hill, with curve straightening to the Frechette property, where the old line is resumed.

Little change is to be made in alignment between Red Falls and Ashland, where a new I-beam bridge will be constructed over West Hollow Brook. It will have a span of 45 feet, roadway width of 34 feet and two sidewalks. Another I-beam bridge, having a span of 38 feet and roadway width of 34 feet, will be built on the site of the existing structure over the stream that flows between East Ashland and Windham.

The increased width of the new highway will require excavation of a new stream channel for some 700 feet of the Batavia Kill around the last curve on the outskirts of the village of Windham. A dam project ends.

An estimated 50 per cent of the U. S. population are church-members.

Negotiations Turn Into Sparring Tilt At Nanking Parley

Nanking, Oct. 22 (AP)—Chinese government and Communist negotiators turned their peace meeting into a sparring match for position today. Meantime, the government pressed preparations to administer areas seized from the Reds.

General Marshall and U. S. Ambassador Stuart, resuming active roles, conferred with minority party leaders whose proposals succeeded in returning Communist negotiator Chou En-Lai to Nanking.

The Reds clung stubbornly to their demands for restoration of territory the government has seized since the quickly broken January truce and for acceptance of political pacts which never were put into effect.

Communist spokesman Wang Ping-Nan, who yesterday said "no reason for optimism," said his party's maximum concessions are acceptance of those agreements "which are far from turning the government delegates are willing to accept."
